Quotable quotes: Ships in harbor are safe, but that's not what ships are built for.

It happened this week: In 1908, the Chicago Cubs took 2-0 lead in the World Series, defeating the visiting Detroit Tigers 6-1 at the West Side Grounds.

Country shortcuts: For a pasta omelet toss two cups leftover spaghetti with four beaten eggs and grated parmesan, cook in olive oil over medium-low heat, flipping once, until set.

Holden Smith celebrated his eighth birthday with friends Brady Daniels, Alan Ulsh, Caleb Skiles, and Dalton Sheffield, his brother Bronson, and his cousins Jallyn and Nicholas, at Cluggy's on Friday night. Also attending were his parents, Jami and Darrin, his maw, Kim Sipes, and his Aunt Christina and Uncle Shawn.

Get well wishes to Karen Bowers, who is making a fine recovery back at home after recently spending time at Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown, and later the Sinai Hospital in Baltimore.

Don't miss the Fulton Fall Folk Festival this weekend, beginning Friday.

Have a great week.

Hustontown

It sure has been a beautiful October weekend. We just hope it lasts through all next week for the fall festival.

Our sympathy is extended to the family and relatives of Willis Heefner who passed away on Saturday. He was very well liked by all.

Get well wishes to Rheon Gelvin who spent some time in Chambersburg Hospital last week.

By Kate Berkstresser
Shawn, Jackie and Ryan Berkstresser of Slippery Rock spent the weekend with Harvey and Pat Berkstresser and his mother, Andrea. They were helping get set up at the Barn for the festival.

Glad to report Alice Walker got a good physical report this past week. We send get well wishes her way.

Our prayers also go out to Bill

Henry for improvement in health.

Pastor Bill Kuhn and Joanne will start their vacation on Monday of this week. Peter Rusack will be speaker next Sunday at Knobsville United Methodist Church.

Glad to hear there was a nice attendance at the service at Dick and Ruth Knepper's on Sunday evening. Sorry to hear Dick Knepper is having trouble with his foot. Hope it is improved soon.

Household hint: Clean steam iron. Make a solution of half white vinegar and half water. Turn iron to steam setting and holding it horizontal, operate the spray and let it steam until the liquid is gone. May need to repeat treatment for a good job.

Enjoy the festival.

Price includes beverage and dessert. The fire company serves up some terrific food, so be sure to stop by and support their good cooking and great service.

Wells Tannery

This is the time of year that I enjoy the most; I love the cool weather, the changing leaves, and all of the fall festivities. Everyone in the area seems to be preparing for fall, and looking forward to the upcoming festivities this week.

Fiddle Johnson and Winnie recently went on a Bollman bus trip with the Fulton County Scottish Rights Club. They traveled to Savannah, Ga., and toured two islands off the coast of Georgia.

Get well wishes to Krista Black, wife of Kenneth Black of Waterfall. She recently had knee surgery. Get well wishes to Helen Foreman who is currently in the hospital.

My father Rocky Souders spent most of last week in Fulton County Medical center. He is home and feeling better. Greg Shaffer as well recently spent some time in the hospital with pneumonia.

Happy birthday to my step-daughter, Abigail Mellott, on October 14. She celebrated her seventh birthday this past weekend, with cake and presents at her Grandma Tammy's and Pappy Rocky's. Belated birthday wishes to Arnold Hann, who celebrated his birthday on October 12.

My brother-in-law, Christopher Mellott, will be visiting this week from Phoenix, Ariz., to see family and take part in the county festivities. On that note, I would like to congratulate Chris who just informed us last week that he and his wife, Melissa, are expecting a baby.

Celebrates First

Maxwell Bruce Suders celebrated his first birthday on July 12, 2008. Max's birthday cake was a big cupcake baked by his mother.

Max's proud parents are Morris and Melissa Suders, and he has a big brother, Carter. He was born on his grandparent's wedding anniversary, Bruce and Rena Sipes and Morris and Pam Suders.

Max's great-grandparents are Rudy and Dorothy Smith, Kate Ott, Wayne and Wilma Sipes, Marshall and Eunice Booth, and Morris and Nancy Suders.

Max wishes to thank his friends and family for making his first birthday special.

Grove College Again Named Among Nation's Best In New Book

For the third consecutive year, the John L. Grove College of Business is ranked as one of the best business schools in the nation.

The college, with focus on the MBA program, is included in the 2009 edition of The Princeton Review's annual guide to business schools. The title of the publication is "Best 296 Business Schools." The Princeton Review does not rank schools academically or hierarchically in its college or graduate school guidebooks.

"In these ever-changing economic times, education is more and more becoming the key to professional and personal success, as well as the success of our nation," said university President William N. Rudd. "Grove College and its outstanding faculty are playing an instrumental role in providing our students - our current and future leaders - with information and insight they need. We're pleased this dedication and the college's many successes are recognized by The Princeton Review."

According to Robert Franek, vice president-publishing of The Princeton Review, "We select schools for this book based on our high regard for their academic programs and offerings, institutional data we collect from the schools and the candid opinions of students attending them who rate and report on their campus experiences at the schools. We are pleased to recommend Shippenburg to readers of our book and users of our Web site as one of the best institutions they could attend to earn an MBA."

Dr. Stephen J. Holoviak, dean of the college, said, "We are happy to continue a 37-year history of excellence in business education at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The Princeton Review is a wonderful proxy to testify to this dedication."

The book has a two-page profile of the college with information on academics, student life and admissions. In it, the student respondents cite the college's cutting-edge classrooms and give high marks to faculty citing that they "tend to be very friendly and like to see success."

The ranking lists are based on surveys of 19,000 business schools students during the 2007-2008, 2006-2007 and 2005-2006 academic years. On average, 65 students at each business school were surveyed for the rankings lists appearing in the new edition of the book. The 80-question survey asked students about their school's academics, student body and campus life, themselves and their career plans. Most of the surveys were completed online at The Princeton Review's student surveys it while a small percentage was paper surveys completed on the campuses.

Celebrates Third

Carter Lyle Suders celebrated his third birthday on June 13, 2008. He had a tractor-theme birthday party at his home with his family, friends and his little brother, Max.

Carter's parents are Morris and Melissa Suders.

Carter's proud grandparents are Bruce and Rena Sipes and Morris and Pam Suders. His great-grandparents are Rudy and Dorothy Smith, Kate Ott, Wayne and Wilma Sipes, Marshall and Eunice Booth, and Morris and Nancy Suders.

Carter wishes to thank everyone for making his day special and for the cards and presents.
